

In memory of
Dennis Clement Saxelby
28th June 1926 – 19th July 2014

Dennis was a wonderful, kind and gentle person with a delightful sense of humour. He lived a very full and active life until he became unwell in his twilight years. His philosophy was always “As one door closes another one opens”.

Dennis was an only child, born to Elsie Lillian and Francis Bernard Saxelby. He was only 8 years old when he tragically lost his mum to cancer and then at the age of 29 years he also lost his father to atherosclerosis.

He was an electrical engineer at Leys Malleable Castings from the age of 16, as an apprentice, until the age of 57 when redundancy took place.
Dennis was married to Hazel for 67 years.

Dennis suffered with eye problems since a tumour was removed from his left eye over 20 years ago. Sight Support Derbyshire assisted Dennis with various aids in his later years, which was invaluable.

*With grateful thanks to all the family and friends of the late Dennis Saxelby who donated to Sight
Support Derbyshire in his memory.*
